Inspired Growth

Because of our work together:

Our investments are growing, which means more grants to nonprofits and more scholarships for students;

Our partnerships are broadening, which means that, together with community partners, our ability to make a difference is greater; and

Our knowledge is deepening, which means we are more effective grantmakers, advocates and strategists.

Thank you for your commitment to the Foundation and to our state.
Dear Friends:

For 37 years, The Oregon Community Foundation has pursued a mission to improve life in Oregon and promote effective philanthropy. It is a mission that has stood the test of time and the challenge of changing needs.

There has been no more difficult time or greater challenge than in these past few years. But Oregonians have responded with generosity: donors have increased their contributions, nonprofits have offered more services with fewer staff, and community members have donated critical volunteer time and skills.

For The Oregon Community Foundation, these challenges have underscored the need to take a greater leadership role in the state: forging partnerships, leveraging investments and responding to local needs with statewide solutions. Thanks to our strong roots in Oregon communities and our many engaged donors, we are uniquely positioned to do this.

“Inspired Growth” – the theme of this year’s annual report – is growth that is thoughtful and effective, built on a solid foundation and responsive to diverse interests. It honors the past while planning for the future. It is true leadership.

We look forward to continuing to work with you to fulfill our mission, and we remain deeply appreciative of your commitment to OCF and the future health of Oregon.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

Thanks to the spirit, creativity and generosity of thousands of Oregonians, The Oregon Community Foundation continues to rank among the nation’s largest and best community foundations.

Here are a few highlights from 2010:

• 103 new funds were set up by Oregonians, continuing a strong tradition of giving.

• Our generous donors contributed more than $76 million to help meet community needs.

• The OCF board charted a new course for the Foundation: to strengthen OCF’s regional presence and statewide leadership, to sharpen its focus on early childhood programs and access to education, and to develop programs impacting jobs and the economy.

• OCF’s Ready to Learn Program announced six “parenting hubs,” important steps toward creating a true statewide system of resources and support for good parenting.

• The Foundation announced a new OCF Scholarship Initiative to increase access to higher education and training for Oregonians.

• More than 150 volunteer leaders gathered in Bend for a two-day leadership conference, helping set a course aligned with the Foundation’s strategic plan.

• Regional Action Initiative committees granted more than $1.8 million in the areas of community schools, mentoring, literacy and children’s dental health.

• Hundreds of fifth and sixth graders “played to learn” through OCF’s Environmental Education Program.

• OCF distributed approximately $60 million through grants and scholarships across the state, helping support Oregon communities through the efforts of thousands of community volunteers and nonprofit groups.

DONORS

Thanks to our donors, OCF helps preserve Oregon’s cherished history and address the state’s changing needs. OCF is privileged to serve as the bridge between donors and the causes they care about – in every corner of the state.

CHUCK WOMER

Moving to a new city is sure to disrupt the obvious routines of life, but what about the things we do to feel connected to our community? For Chuck Womer, that was the challenge when he relocated to Southern Oregon from the San Francisco Bay Area.

“When I moved to Southern Oregon, I became involved as a volunteer and then developed the sense that, besides time, there is a need for financial help.”

Chuck established the Womer Family Fund through OCF to support organizations that help the people of Southern Oregon.

Chuck’s experience working with OCF has been consistently positive. “The staff is outstanding. They have not pressured me into decisions but rather have supported my needs.”

BOB AND CLELLA THOMAS

Longtime Central Oregonians Bob and Clella Thomas have always believed in giving back to their community. According to Bob, “Setting aside a fund with OCF assures that we can continue to help.”

The Thomases’ participation grew from establishing their fund to helping guide OCF through the Central Oregon Leadership Council.

“We have always valued helping those charitable endeavors that are essential and efficient in our community.”

Bob and Clella’s goal is to continue to grow their fund as they are able, to guide those resources to the needs of the community and state, and to encourage their family and others to do likewise.

Bob says, “It is reassuring to know that our fund is well-managed by such capable people and will be available to help our community for years to come.”
Managing one’s own philanthropy can be a daunting task, but what about sharing and delegating the responsibility to the next generation? That was the challenge for Loren and Ethelyn Pankratz, who established separate funds for each of their four children instead of one encompassing family fund.

When Loren and Ethelyn updated their will, their attorney suggested exploring OCF as a repository for their trust. Talking with OCF staff, they found the Foundation’s values consistent with their own. Their first thought was to create a fund from their estate that would be managed by all four children. However, some Christmas experiences gave them alternative ideas.

The family decided that exchanging gifts would be replaced by giving gifts to selected charities. Sharing the stories of how they selected a specific charity generated insight about the individual’s concerns.

“With OCF, we feel that we are participating in something great, surrounded by great people.”

Now, with multiple individual funds, each family member is involved in giving from their own personal perspective.

According to Loren, “We all look forward to sharing our final selections.”

Mark Frohnmayer is a busy guy. He started a video game business in the 1990s, sold it in 2007, and with the profits, not only founded an electric car company but also established his own fund through OCF.

OCF runs in the family. Mark’s grandfather, Otto Frohnmayer, was instrumental in getting the Foundation started in 1973. When Mark wanted to dedicate some of the profit from his business to support causes in his community, his parents encouraged him to consider OCF.

Mark says, “OCF is a phenomenal tool for one-stop foundation giving. It’s made charitable giving totally painless.” He’s enthusiastic about recommending OCF to others.

WHAT OCF OFFERS OUR DONORS

The Oregon Community Foundation connects you to the causes you care about, with guidance and integrity. We offer:

• Flexibility and Focus – You decide how, when and where to spend your money. OCF staff helps you transform your wishes into action.

• Reliability – Your charitable funds are invested and professionally managed in a large and diversified portfolio.

• Efficiency – Giving through OCF reduces or eliminates the time and expense of running a private foundation.

• Financial Stewardship – We help you achieve maximum tax advantages and work with your financial advisors and attorneys to incorporate giving into your plans.

• Support and Leadership – OCF staff and volunteers in local communities help identify local needs, so your donations can make the greatest impact.

“OCF provides efficiency and flexibility for my clients as they plan their charitable giving. OCF is a valuable resource.”

~ Penny Serrurier, Attorney at Law, Stoel Rives LLP, Portland

Together, we are building a permanent endowment for our state.

“OCF is the most flexible planning tool available when a client is considering charitable giving. Whether a client’s gift is large or small, fund design can be easily tailored to accommodate specific intentions and objectives. With professional assistance from OCF gift planners, low expense ratios and diligent monitoring of grants, from start to finish, OCF is by far one of the best options for my clients.”

~ Douglas Nelson, Attorney at Law
Gartland, Nelson, McCleery, Wade and Walloch, P.C., Eugene
VOLUNTEERS

OCF’s 1,600 volunteers serve on leadership councils and evaluate grant proposals and scholarship applications. This broad level of community involvement in OCF’s activities creates opportunities for volunteers to share knowledge, ideas and resources to make OCF a powerful resource for good.

BILL AND CINDY RAINEY

How do you turn donors into volunteers? Just ask Bill and Cindy Rainey of Sisters. As part of settling into Central Oregon, they researched community foundations where they could establish a donor-advised fund, and chose OCF.

Then, after attending an OCF event, they decided to volunteer. Cindy said they were very impressed by the presenters and those attending. “We have always had an interest in education, and we signed up to be volunteers on the scholarship committee.”

“We know these scholarships make an important investment in the future and that they will make a real difference in the lives of the recipients.”

And how does their experience as donors impact their volunteer roles? “As OCF scholarship committee volunteers, we try do our very best to responsibly allocate funds provided by our fellow donors.”

SHELLY JOHNSON AND BARB KRONSTEINER

North Bend’s Shelley Johnson (pictured) is a volunteer grant evaluator for OCF, which involves investigating and analyzing grant requests. Last year she joined OCF’s South Coast Leadership Council.

Shelley soon recruited her neighbor, Barb Kronsteiner, and they often work as a team, keeping each other company on long drives to Port Orford, Gold Beach or Eugene. Shelley says, “We are both gardeners and sometimes combine fact finding with plant finding!”

Barb tells the story of one visit that touched her personally: “The grant request from Dora-Sitkum Rural Fire Protection District was one of the most heartwarming reviews I did. This small rural town really pulled together to fund a new fire hall and refurbish their community center.”
JIM WALLS

Jim Walls of Lakeview is the kind of volunteer whom every nonprofit hopes to find and hang on to, one who comes with as much ability as enthusiasm. Jim came to OCF with a record of both professional and volunteer leadership focused on environmental and energy issues.

Now retired, Jim serves on OCF’s Southern Oregon Leadership Council and the Regional Action Initiative Committee.

Jim is proud of the mentoring program started by the Southern Oregon RAI. “The program has been a tremendous success. Teachers, administrators at the school and mentors are telling us just how much this program is changing students’ lives.”

“I enjoy volunteer work because I like making a difference in my community and peoples’ lives.”

Jim also loves to quote Margaret Mead: “Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world. Indeed, it is the only thing that ever has.”

JOSE GONZALEZ

For Jose Gonzalez, community involvement is a way of life. While establishing himself in business as principal broker for Tu Casa Real Estate, Jose, a Willamette Valley native and father of four, invests his time and energy on the boards of nearly a dozen community groups.

Jose serves as an OCF volunteer grant evaluator and a member of the Northern Willamette Valley Leadership Council.

“I did my research and was amazed at how efficient and professional OCF is. Their core values are in line with mine.”

And what does he like best about his volunteer work with OCF? “The people! I cannot tell you how much I enjoy interacting with all the OCF staff and volunteers.”
The Oregon Community Foundation’s regional Leadership Councils play a vital role in the Foundation’s mission to improve life in Oregon. These volunteers provide information and guidance to help identify local needs, develop response strategies and mobilize resources.

OCF 2010 Annual Report | 13 |
As a community foundation, OCF has never been simply a funder. Throughout our history, we have taken on the role of leader, convener and partner, creating initiatives in areas where needs are greatest and where we can have a lasting impact. These areas include education, children and families, and citizen engagement. We’ve highlighted some of these programs on the next few pages. For a full listing, please go to oregoncf.org/connect.

LATINO PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM

Strengthening Bonds and Understanding

The Latino Partnership Program (LPP) was established in 2001 by OCF’s volunteer Northern Willamette Valley Leadership Council. The program has since expanded to Southern and Central Oregon and Umatilla County.

Goals of the program are to strengthen Latino leaders and organizations, support education that encourages Latinos to become more integrated and influential in their communities, and help forge strong ties between Latino and non-Latino communities.

Led by local advisory groups, LPP currently funds leadership training, community-based English instruction and small grants to Latino organizations.

“Well before the Latino Partnership Program began in Medford, our Latino community had no real influence with the school districts in our area. With the help of LPP we have formed Una Voz. We now have a substantive monthly meeting with Medford school district officials and are making real progress in enhancing the school environment for Latino youth.”

~ Maria Ramos Underwood, La Clinica del Valle Family Health Care Center, Medford
The Latino Partnership Program has funded expansion of services for farmworker families through the Farmworker Housing Development Corporation.
COMMUNITY 101
Involving Students Through Service, Leadership and Philanthropy

This year, through Community 101, Rhonda Brennan’s class at Mitchell High School is supporting drug and alcohol abuse prevention in their community. This is thanks to a partnership among OCF, the PGE Foundation and generous donors. And in classes all over Oregon, students are making similar decisions.

Through Community 101, each class operates a mini-foundation, receiving a $5,000 allocation for grantmaking. Students identify issues, decide their focus, review grant applications and award grants. One hundred percent of funds go into the community.

“Community 101 was one of the top highlights of my high-school experience. I would sincerely like to thank you for providing such a phenomenal experience.”

~ Danielle, La Salle High School Alumna
REGIONAL ACTION INITIATIVE
Community Leadership and Citizen Engagement

In 2008, OCF created the Regional Action Initiative (RAI) to involve citizens in identifying and solving local problems. The RAI provided a onetime, $1 million special allocation to each of OCF’s seven service regions.

Led by OCF’s volunteer leadership councils, RAI committees reviewed data about their region, conducted community interviews and forums, and studied successful strategies for change. Each region decided on an issue ranging from youth mentoring to parent education, literacy and children’s dental health, and is currently working on solutions.

“I think all of us... discovered areas of need in our community that we didn’t know were there.”

~ RAI Committee Member
OCF has an ongoing commitment to Oregon students’ access to higher learning. As part of that commitment, we want to make post-secondary education more affordable. Our donors have supported that charge with lasting investments. More than 330 scholarship funds created by individuals, organizations and businesses now award more than $6 million annually to thousands of students coming from every county in the state.

Hundreds of volunteers participate in selecting OCF’s scholarship recipients, reviewing scholarship applications and identifying students who best fit each fund’s goals, making this program possible.

“As I look to the future, I know that I want to stay in Oregon to give back to the wonderful state that has helped me learn, grow and mature. One day I hope to fund a scholarship myself.”

~ Douglas, Recipient, OCF’s Struble Memorial Scholarship

READY TO LEARN

OCF’s Early Childhood Program

OCF is a leader in funding early childhood programs around the state, providing grants that help parents become better first teachers to their children, child care workers learn valuable techniques, and young children attain the skills they need to succeed in school.

From research on early childhood issues to matching the talents of the baby boom generation with the needs of the newest generation, our Ready to Learn programs support the critical role that early childhood development plays not only in the health and well-being of the children, but also in the adults they become.

“We appreciate OCF for believing in our project and our vision to change the perception and the frequency of parenting education in our county. We are changing the world, one relationship at a time!”

~ Kathy Barber, Coos County Parenting Project Coordinator

GRANTEES

OCF grant recipients are the basis of a critical infrastructure for the state, helping us raise healthy children, educate our young people, strengthen our workforce and support our most vulnerable citizens.

SANDY LIBRARY

The Sandy Public Library’s mission statement tells exactly the role it serves in the community: “The Sandy Library is the informational, educational and cultural center for the Sandy area.”

Beyond books, the Sandy Library is the community’s access portal to the virtual world. Additionally, the library offers early literacy programs, classes and adult programs to community members.

The library’s challenge is finding space for the activities the public has come to expect. That’s where a $25,000 grant from OCF comes in. Added to support from Clackamas County and other foundations, the Sandy Library is building a community room to be used for early literacy programs, computer classes and monthly “Coffee House” events – helping fulfill its mission.

SALEM FREE MEDICAL CLINIC

Salem Free Medical Clinic is unique in its service to the community, as it is the only medical/mental health (and soon to add dental) clinic in the Salem area that is totally free to its patients. The clinic works with state and county parole and probation officers as well as the Psychiatric Crisis Center to help individuals with mental health issues access providers. With the exception of three paid positions, it is a totally volunteer-based clinic, staffed by more than 350 volunteers.

OCF’s $20,000 grant has allowed Salem Free Medical Clinic to hire additional part-time staff to support volunteers who are the foundation of their work.

Apply Online for Grants or Scholarships

The OCF Community Grants Program accepts applications twice a year, February 1 and August 1. Scholarship applications are available online in mid-October and accepted through March 1 of the approaching academic year.

www.oregoncf.org
OREGON COAST MUSIC ASSOCIATION

The mission of the Oregon Coast Music Association (OCMA) is to involve, enrich and inspire the community by providing quality classical music and creative musical experiences. Like many arts organizations, it has relied on support from local businesses that are often the first victims of an economic downturn. And when those businesses are struggling, like the timber companies that have been among the Association’s major supporters, contributing to the arts becomes a lower priority than keeping their own doors open and making the payroll.

That’s why Oregon Community Foundation’s $9,000 bridge grant to OCMA was so important. It helped the group’s Oregon Coast Music Festival bring in major symphony musicians from across the U.S. and Canada to assemble a world-class orchestra, the festival’s centerpiece ensemble.

For more than three decades, with minimal overhead, the Festival has been providing residents of the south coast with amazing music events, from the Festival Orchestra concerts to international guest soloists like Italy’s Roberto Plano coming this summer. The association has also provided county schools with annual KinderKonzert programs, free of charge, through funding from the Coos County Cultural Coalition.

HACIENDA COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

With a vision for a dynamic “living community” in which all families – regardless of income or nationality – can thrive and pursue their dreams, Hacienda Community Development Corporation has been transforming neglected areas of Northeast Portland since 1992, reclaiming crime-ridden and decayed properties and replacing them with the infrastructure families need to live, learn and play.

“The path to an improved quality of life begins with a stable, safe, healthy and affordable home.”
~ Pietro Ferrari, Executive Director

Hacienda’s $20,000 grant from OCF supports its adult education program known as Plaza Comunitaria. Plaza helps adults attain primary and secondary education certificates and prepares them for higher levels of education. This helps participants serve as better-informed and involved parents; thus, while the program focuses on adults, it is conceived as a way to aid the entire family.
This list represents a cross-section of the nearly 5,000 grants that OCF distributed in 2010.

INVESTMENT POLICY

OCF invests its permanent funds to provide a stable resource for Oregon. Effective investment management of these funds allows the Foundation to respond to today’s needs while preserving and enhancing the real value of the funds for future needs.

ASSET ALLOCATION

A diversified portfolio is fundamental to OCF’s investment strategy. A well-diversified investment portfolio helps maximize investment returns and reduce volatility. Our Investment Committee regularly reviews the asset allocation strategy. The allocation among asset classes at December 31, 2010, is shown at right.

INVESTMENT MANAGERS

To further diversify our portfolio, the OCF Investment Committee selects investment managers with expertise in managing specific asset classes. For a complete list of investment managers, please visit our website at www.oregoncf.org.

OCF INVESTMENT COMMITTEE

OCF’s Investment Committee oversees the investment program, makes recommendations to the board of directors regarding investment policy and strategy, and hires and monitors investment managers. The Investment Committee is made up of community volunteers and OCF board members with expertise in investments and business.

*Endowment Partner funds are OCF funds established by charitable organizations in Oregon to serve as their endowments. The Foundation maintains variance power and legal ownership of the funds and reports them as assets. In accordance with Accounting Standards Codification 958-605-25-33, a liability has been established for the fair value of the funds, which is generally equivalent to the present value of future payments expected to be made to the charitable organization.

Does not include grants totaling $9M made from Endowment Partner funds.

If you would like a copy of the financial statements audited by Deloitte & Touche LLP, please visit our website, www.oregoncf.org, or call the Foundation's Portland office, 503.227.6846.
STRONG ROOTS. INSPIRED GROWTH.
